

2010 Sculptures on the Edina Promenade

2009 People's Choice First Place

← "Gyr Family Cycle"

By Percy Chester, Minneapolis MN
Stainless Steel $35,000

Denotes youth and aging, the generational presence, projecting hope and suggesting stewardship in maintaining the continuity of all life forms.

"Entrega Total" →

by Guilloume, Sandia Park, New Mexico
Bronze $25,000

The work depicts the most romantic moment in life, the nuptial embrace. The title is from an old Mexican song, Entrega Total (I give you my all.)

← "Holy Big Bird"

by Stephen J. Fischer, Sullivan WI
Aluminum $23,000

Years of watching sand hill cranes which the Asians call Holy Big Bird was the inspiration for this sculpture.

"Reflecting on Friendship" →

by Nicholas Legeros, Edina MN
Bronze $10,000

"Reflecting On Friendship" portrays two preschool kids running around and trying to pop bubbles. As I made this sculpture I was amazed at how flexible kids are at that age.

← "Three Trees"

By Kevin Komadina, Edina MN
Ceramic $17,000

Humans and nature are intimately connected and interdependent. Earth's resources benefit all Mankind.

"The Plunge" →

By Deb Zeller, Victoria MN
Bronze $15,000

The plunge has become a symbol for action. Take the first step, make a commitment, dive in and get started.

2009 People's Choice Second Place

← "Mosaic Chairs"

By Fuller Cowles and Constance Mayeron,
Shafer MN

Granite over cement and steel $35,000
An invitation to switch roles from spectator to participant, to sit down and be amazed.

The 2010-11 sculpture exhibitions at the Promenade and Grandview Square Park have been underwritten by the Edina Community Foundation, with funds provided by the late Marguerite (Peg) McNally

The Edina Public Art Committee is a standing committee of the Edina Art Center Board.

A gift to the City of Edina by the Edina Community Foundation made possible by contributions from the Edina Public Art Committee.

2009 People’s Choice Third Place

←“Minn Eco Turtle”

by Kathy Gustafson, Bemidji, MN
Painted Steel

The shell includes plant life from different Minnesota ecosystems, including pine, spruce, birch and hardwoods; cattails, water plants and flowers.

←“Time Piece”→

by Dean Holzman, St. Paul MN
Steel, Aluminum, Cedar, Rocks $2100

The piece is a series of arcs as is life. I see it as a place to sit and reflect; a sundial where you can watch the shadows move and evolve.

←“Rider of the 4 Directions”

by Gordon F. VanWert, Park Rapids, MN
Limestone and Quartz Crystal $158,000

The 4 directions in many cultures represent the circle of life. The crystal in the center is the light inside everyone; the inner hope & love.

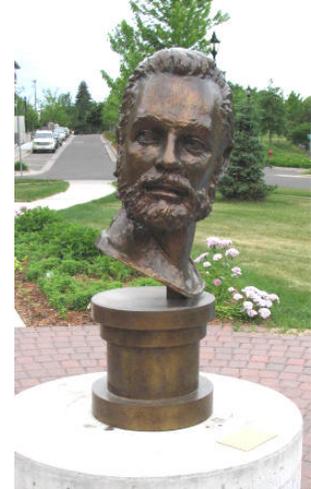

At Grandview Square:

←“Head of St. Joseph”→

by Nicholas Legeros, Edina MN
Bronze $20,000

The bronze head of St Joseph is from a larger sculpture. The original seventeen foot high sculpture stands in front of St. Joseph’s Hospital in St. Paul, MN.

←“Bridled Spirit”

by Deb Zeller, Victoria MN
Bronze $4500

The artist was inspired by the horse she owned as a teenage farm girl. Her horse had incredible spirit but the double reign control, changed everything This sculpture represents persistence, understanding, transition and mastery.

←“Toro”→

by Chris Gustafson, Bemidji MN
Steel $2000

This was a technical study to build a piece from the outside with no interior armature. I chose the bull representing power and strength but contrasting with the light weight of the construction method.

Help keep sculptures on the promenade. Artists are paid to install and lend their sculptures for a year. Sponsor a site or help purchase a work for permanent display. Donate through your water bill (go to www.EdinaPublicArt.org and sign up now) or through www.EdinaCommunityFoundation.org
